

BORN IN BLOOD: THE BEGINNING OF THE NATIONAL PARKS

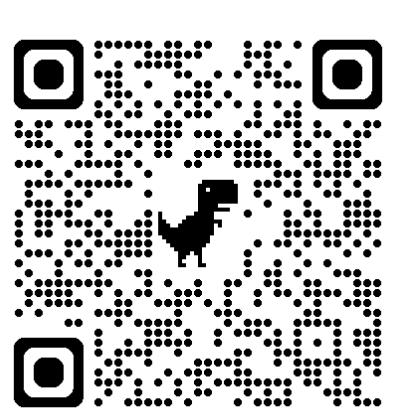

MONDAY, JANUARY 26 • 6:30-7:30PM

The United States boasts some of the most beautiful and breathtaking landscapes imaginable – spaces that have been virtually untouched by human hands. But do you know the history behind how these pristine areas became the National Park System and how their creation affected Native Americans? Join us to learn about the blood and heartache that Indigenous peoples faced with the creation of the National Parks.

Presented by public historian, Heather Bruegl.

Register today!

Brighton
District
Library

100 Library Drive, Brighton, MI 48116
810-229-6571 • brightonlibrary.info